A sort of "golf reality" show, The Big Break brought together golfers who competed in skills challenges and also head-to-head match play, with prizes at stake that included entry into high-level professional tournaments. The original Big Break series first aired on The Golf Channel on Oct. 7, 2003, and the show quickly became a ratings winner for the network. Golf Channel announced the end of the series in 2015 (although many suspect it will return at some point).
